Presents an illustrated talk on

A Watching Brief at Lewes Priory

by

Simon Stevens

Simon is a professional archaeologist working for Archaeology South East. He has recently completed a Watching Brief on work carried at Lewes Priory during the restoration work at the site. Remains of the Priory, originally belonging to the Benedictine Order of Cluny, were encountered in various areas of the site, as well as a range of artefacts. Simon will share his findings with us. The Priory is now fully open to the public.

The meeting will be held at the WRVS Centre, Hyde Road, Eastbourne at 7.30pm on Friday 13th January 2012

Members free. Guests welcome £2
